

Welcome to our July 2008 newsletter!

This newsletter is short and sweet this month as we have been so busy recently!

The 2008 Sunrise Celebration Festival, the show must go on!

We were due have a stall in the Green Innovations arena at the Sunrise Celebration festival at the end of May, but the English weather had other ideas and the festival was cancelled due to flooding. Luckily, The Big Chill Festival (another independent festival) has come to the rescue by offering Sunrise the use of a large field alongside their event!

Pouch will be in the Green Innovations area on Saturday 2nd and Sunday 3rd

Daisy green eco queen

Easy to read and regularly updated, this blog has loads of info on eco issues and ethical shopping.

The main author of this blog is also very approachable and willing to support small eco-businesses such as ourselves.

Since finding the site through the BBC website, I have been checking back regularly to see what's new on the blog.

I recommend you give it a read!

Top tip: if you are looking for eco-friendly goodies on etsy, add the search term 'teamecoetsy' to the search bar to find etsy sellers who create items using recycled or ethical materials

Our Mission:

As an Eco Etsy member, we are dedicated to educating, demonstrating, and promoting a more Eco way of life. Members will contribute in team sales, contests, monthly chats, share tips and tricks on how we can help promote a cleaner way of life, and help raise money to donate to charities and various organization that are also dedicated to Eco practices. Reuse packaging and encourage others to do the same. Share creative ways to reuse materials to use for packaging, envelopes, stuffing material, and wrapping materials. When it comes down to it, we are just a bunch of fun loving reusing, Etsy addicts who love to reduce, reuse and recycle, and talk about it with others too!
